

Global Renewable Energy Capacity Increased 161 GW In Record 2016, Says IRENA

New data published today by the International Renewable Energy Agency shows that global renewable energy generation capacity increased by 161 gigawatts in 2016, a record year for new capacity additions and proof positive of the unstoppable nature of the low-carbon energy transition.

<https://cleantechnica.com/2017/03/30/global-renewable-energy-capacity-increased-161-gw-record-2016-irena/>